Enjoy the Architectural Grandeur of Rajwada Palace & Lal Bagh Palace

A historical edifice that once belonged to the Holkars of the Maratha Empire, Rajwada Palace is one of the oldest structures in Indore. This seven-storey palace, built over two centuries ago, displays a splendid amalgamation of the Mughal, Maratha, and French styles of architecture.

Lal Bagh Palace is an everlasting testimony to the lifestyle, art, and architecture of the Maratha rulers. This three-storey building that once served as the abode of the Holkars is now a museum. It features stunningly designed interiors complete with Indian and Italian paintings, grand chandeliers, furniture that belong to late Regency and early Georgian styles, Persian carpets, and an exquisite ballroom.

Witness the Beauty of Spiritual Places & Temples

Devotees can plan a day trip to ancient city of Ujjain which is a prominent Hindu pilgrimage center. There's one of a kind Kanch Mandir made of glass & mirrors in the city. Besides there's also a temple of Bada Ganpati, hilltop temple at Gomatgiri & architectural splendour at Annapurna Temple that one can visit.
